DICASTERY FOR PROMOTING
INTEGRAL HUMAN DEVELOPMENT

The Dicastery for Promoting Integral Human Development, established by Pope Francis in 2017, promotes integral human development in the light of the Gospel and in the tradition of the Church's social teachings. It expresses the Holy See's concern for issues of justice and peace, including those related to migration, health, charitable works, the care of creation, and for suffering people, including the needy, the sick and the excluded. It pays special attention to those who are victims of armed conflicts, natural disasters, and of contemporary forms of slavery. Peter K.A. Cardinal Turkson, President of the Pontifical Council for Justice and Peace from 2009 to 2016, was appointed by Pope Francis as Prefect of the Dicastery upon its creation.

Caritas Internationalis is guided by mercy in its work to give people living on the peripheries the tools they need to lift themselves out of poverty. Caritas Internationalis is the official humanitarian agency of the universal Catholic Church and a confederation of 165 national organizations. Members of the Caritas confederation respond to emergencies and strive for a better world where there is social and economic justice, where there is peace, and where our natural world is protected. They make sure the voices of the poor and marginalized are heard through their campaigns and advocacy.
